Besides the election of officers for the ensuing year, the question of the admission of the Chicago Convention, which meets in the City Council Chamber, will be discussed, and a committee of three appointed to choose their delegates to the meeting.

SEDGEFIELD RACETRACK.

From the New York Tribune, Nov. 15.

After a long struggle the Sportsmen have succeeded in securing a racetrack, and we are delighted to be the bearers of the glad tidings to the lovers of the noble sport. The enterprising gentlemen who have taken the matter in hand are Messrs. Ferdinand Mayer, Jr., Edward Mayer, Jr., and Theodore Mayer, Jr., the sons of the well-known Ferdinand Mayer, Sr., who was so long the head chief of King Victor Emanuel's household, and who is now the Austrian Consul-General at Austrian Princes, and chief of the Imperial Household of Austria. The Messrs. Mayer, Jr., have purchased the property known as Sedgefield, in the township of Jamaica, Queens County, about 12 miles from the City Hall, and 2 miles from Hempstead. The property is admirably adapted for the purpose, and the track is now being laid out. It will be a mile track, and will have turns, to enable the horses to be seen at all points of the course. The grounds will be enclosed with a high board fence, and will be provided with a grand stand, which will be capable of seating 5,000 persons. The track will be ready for the Spring meeting, and will be opened with a grand trial of speed on the 1st of May next. The Messrs. Mayer, Jr., have made a splendid start in the right direction, and we wish them success in their undertaking.

The Paris correspondent of the Manchester Examiner says that the Emperor Napoleon is annoyed greatly by the Ollivier ministry, which will not give him the power to dissolve the Chamber of Deputies at will.

Bismarck's favorite vegetable is Mr. Thiers' carriage; one of his estimates in Reichstag was for the last cruelty of Louis XIV. Both are hated, but not him + the head of Germany.

Professor von Gerolt, the greatest celebrity living, has spent the last year in Paris, where he has received a warm welcome from all the scientific men. He has, indeed, been the guest of the Emperor.

The Pope has ordered a splendid celebration of twelve days, commencing yesterday, and consisting of twelve grand ceremonies, to be opened on the 29th of February, 1870, and to last during the session of the Ecumenical Council.

Seven weeks ago the Emperor of Russia was in a state of hypochondriasis, refused food for three days, and seemed sinking rapidly. Now he is in excellent health, and has resumed his usual occupations. The physicians are said to have recommended to him a journey during the last two years.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Article 8, of the treaty of March 30, 1856, which terminated as a barrier to war, the conflict between Russia on one side, and the Protocol of April 30, of the same year, from which, as explained by the protocol from Vienna, the power of dissolution which destroys its friendly nature, preliminary to any act of hostility. It will be noticed that an overt act, but a declaration, however hostile in character, does not, by the terms of the treaty, constitute a breach of the treaty. The overt act is not necessary. Prussia, in the event of war between Russia and Turkey, will assume to act independently of the free action of the Czar.

GLADSTONE'S OPINION SOLICITED.

There is much reticence in diplomatic circles on the importance of discussion in regard to the views of some on the question, but it is understood that from Mr. Gladstone, the premier, a communication has been received, which, while it does not commit the government to any definite course, indicates the views of the premier on the Russian policy in the Black Sea.

The Germans have with a collective note recommending against the violation. France is powerless in contending against the Germans, and will not be able to do so for years.
